SUBJECT INDEX

The numbers refer to page numbers

Additives, overbased, measurement of microdispersed particles, 188–92
Anatolia, Eastern, inter-mountain basins, 25–33
Asphalt-aggregate interactions, by heat of immersion, 95–101
Atomic absorption analysis, determination of trace amounts of lead in petroleum products by, 193–200
Automatic tank gauges, standardization for installation, 209–17

Bitumens, rheological properties, development of rational specifications, 14–24

Chemical thermodynamics in the petroleum industry, 279–99
Chromatography, alumina, analysis of nitrogen containing polymeric ashless oil dispersants by dialysis, 34–40
Chromatography, displacement, of hydrocarbons, 47–51
Compressibility, of crude oils, 1–13
Crude oil:
  Compressibility, 1–13
  Emulsion stability, and oil/water interfacial stability, 351
  Iranian, correlated data, 75–82

Dialysis, analysis of nitrogen containing polymeric ashless oil dispersants by, 34–40

Flame photometry, combined with gas chromatography for determination of lead alkyls in gasoline, 102–07
Fuel Coker Test, ASTM-CRC, precision of, 218–29
Fuel oils, light furnace, in underground storage, viscosities, 178–87

Gas chromatography:
  Combined with flame photometry for determination of lead alkyls in gasoline, 102–07
  Data, calculation of Research octane number of motor gasolines from, 83–94
Gasoline:
  Lead alkyls in, determination by combined gas chromatographic-flame photometric method, 102–07
  Non-leaded, rapid chemical procedure for determination of trace lead contamination in, 230–36

Hydrocarbons, displacement chromotography of, 47–51
Hydrotreating studies on a straight-run gas oil fraction, 05–21

Industrial biocides, evaluation of, 241–76
  Anti-microbial agents, mode of action and methods for evaluating, 241–47
  Biocides for petroleum products, 248–53
  Gray Products and customer requirements, 263–71
  Manufacturing problems, 254–62
  Meeting customer requirements, 272–76
Iodine monochloride extraction, determination of trade amounts of lead in petroleum products by, 193–200

Lead, trace amounts in petroleum products, determination by iodine monochloride extraction and atomic absorption analysis, 193–200
Lead alkyls in gasoline, determination by combined gas chromatographic-flame photometric method, 102–07
Lubricating oil, oxidation, optimum aromaticity, 346–50

Microbiology, soils contaminated with petroleum hydrocarbons, 201–08
Microdispersed particles in overbased additives, measurement in overbased additives, 188–92
Motor gasoline:
  Quality control, calculation of Research octane number, from gas chromatographic data, 83–94
  Testing of, review of methods, 52–56
Motor oils, dispersant properties, influence of molecular structure of sulphmates, 322–34

Nitrogen, analysis, 34, 40

Oil possibilities, Eastern Anatolia, intermountain basins, 25–33
Oxidation, lubricating oil, optimum aromaticity, 346–50

Pollutants, persistent hydrocarbon, on seas and beaches, review of methods for identification, 63–74
Porous media, effects of rate of pressure decline and liquid viscosity on low-pressure gas saturations, 335–50

Refrigerated hydrocarbon liquids, measurement of, 113–63
  Basic data and conversion calculations, 133–37
  Containers and gauges calibration, 117–25
  Custody transfer measurements, large-scale refrigerated LNG/LPG, 158–63
  Electrical safety of instruments, 143–57
  Flaw measurement, 138–42
  IP Panel ST-A-12, 113–16
Rheology, properties of bitumens, development of rational specifications, 14–24

Soils, microbiology of, petroleum hydrocarbon contamination, 201–08
Specifications, rheological properties of bitumens, 14–24
Storage, underground, light furnace fuel oils, viscosities, 178–87
Sulphonates:
  Determination of oil soluble, 41–46
  Molecular structure, influence on dispersant properties in motor oils, 322–34

Testing, motor gasoline, review of methods, 52–56
Titration, two-phase, determination of oil-soluble sulphonates by, 41–46
Trace lead, determination in non-leaded gasolines, 230–36

Viscosity:
  Light furnace fuel oils in underground storage, 178–87
  Oil/water interfacial, and crude oil emulsion stability, 351
